2023 Round up

We had a busy 2023 here at Teachers' Pensions and we wanted to share and celebrate some of our achievements with you.

Read on

Start your year right, with our free employer training

Throughout 2024, we'll be hosting many training sessions to help you administer the Scheme.

The sessions will include: weekly webinar training, MCR surgeries, employer drop-in sessions and videos. These have specifically been designed to help you receive our support with any challenges you have.

Employer Toolkit

We've taken on board your feedback to add to resources already available on our website, to create a toolkit that'll help you with member queries.

The toolkit currently focuses on new starters to the Scheme and those wanting to opt out, but we'll be working on further resources to add to the toolkit as the year progresses.

Help members impacted by Transitional Protection changes

We wanted to help you help our members with Transitional Protection so we've created an email template, which can be found on our website, for you to share with staff.

It's a fantastic way to circulate information.

FURTHER NEWS

Retiring members affected by Transitional Protection

We'd just like to remind you, if there are members in your establishment who are affected by Transitional Protection changes and they're looking to retire soon, they should plan their retirement six months in advance.

This is due to decisions that may need to be made or worked out due to the changes made to the Scheme. Further information can be found on our planning to retire webpages, please also direct members to our member webpages.

Stay on top of your workplace pensions duties

We'd like to remind you on behalf of The Pensions Regulator (TPR) to stay on top of your workplace pension duties. This is so TPR aren't required to take any enforcement action.

You can read TPR's ongoing duties guidance to ensure you're aware of what's expected.
