

Opt out of the Teachers' Pension Scheme

Part A: To be completed by the applicant in all cases.

Where possible please complete this form via My Pension Online. Please seek independent financial advice before making any financial decisions.

Notes: This form should be completed if your employer enrolled you in the Teachers' Pension Scheme (TPS) but you decide you do not wish to be a member, or if you are an existing member and you wish to opt out of the TPS in respect of any future service. (Please note that you can opt back in at any time, and be advised that an opt out ceases to have effect if your employer deems you to be eligible for automatic enrolment in accordance with their statutory obligations under the Pensions Act 2008. You do however have the right to opt out again if that is your intention.)

Please complete Part A and hand the entire form to your employer, who will complete Part B and return the form to us. The effective date of the opt out will be based on when your employer receives this opt out form. If you have more than one contract of employment a separate opt out form is required for each employment that you wish to opt out from.

While in the Final Salary arrangement of the TPS, if you are employed in teaching on a full time basis but also undertake some part-time teaching, your employer should not deduct contributions for your part-time earnings; therefore, if this is your circumstance you don't need to opt out to avoid payment of contributions on your part-time earnings.

If you are in the Career Average arrangement of the TPS both your full-time and part-time teaching employment will be pensionable unless you choose to opt out in respect of each or either employment.

As the opt out applies from the first day of the month following the month your employer receives it, it means that if you don't get the form to your employer by the end of the month the opt out will not apply as soon as you want or expect it to. It's your responsibility to make sure you get the form to your employer in time so that the opt out is applied from the start of the month that you wish it to apply from. For example, if you want the opt out to apply from 1 April, you need to get the form to your employer in March. But if you don't give them the form until April, the opt out will apply from May.

However, if the form is received within 3 months of the start of a new employment or of being auto-enrolled in the Scheme, the effective date of the opt out is the start date of the new employment or when you were auto-enrolled.

If you wish to receive a refund of contributions, the following scenarios apply:

- The opt out is received by your employer within 3 months of taking up a new contract of employment – it is the responsibility of your employer to process the refund via their usual payroll process
- The opt out is received by your employer within 3 months of Auto Enrolment/Re-Enrolment – it is the responsibility of your employer to process the refund via their usual payroll process
- The opt out is received by your employer after 3 months of either of the above – contributions will stop in the month after the month your employer received your opt out. If you have not qualified for benefits your employer will not automatically refund contributions via your monthly pay; you must complete an application for a repayment of contributions - the application form is available on the Teachers' Pensions website.

If you haven't qualified for benefits because you've less than two years' pensionable service, you can claim a repayment of your contributions. If you're already in receipt of benefits when you claim from the Scheme you cannot have a repayment, but you'll receive additional benefits. Please see online for further information on eligibility criteria for the repayment of contributions.

To qualify for benefits, all periods of pensionable service are added together. If you think you might be returning to pensionable service at some point in the future, then you may want to consider leaving your service in the Scheme as it will be used along with any new service to count towards your qualifying service and pension benefits;

Once completed you must forward this application to the employer responsible for the contract of employment from which you wish to opt out from, for them to complete Part B. If you have more than one contract of employment a separate opt out form is required for each employment that you wish to opt out from.

Section 2: Election confirmation. Must be signed and dated by the applicant.

Declaration 1

I elect for employments with the employer named and specified on this form not to be treated as pensionable employment. I understand that, if my election is accepted, I will not be able to claim any form of benefit from the Teachers' Pension Scheme in respect of that employment from the effective date of this election.

By opting out of the Teachers' Pension Scheme I will forfeit the right to the following scheme benefits in respect of future service:

- my employer contributing towards the cost of my benefits (currently this is 23.6% of your pensionable earnings)
- a guaranteed pension at normal pension age
- the option to take a tax free lump sum
- pension value protected through full index linking
- access to ill-health benefits, should I become permanently unable to teach
- children's and dependants' pensions
- in-service death grant.

What you need to know

- Your employer cannot ask you or force you to opt out
- If you are asked or forced to opt out, you can tell The Pensions Regulator - see <http://www.tpr.gov.uk>
- If you change your mind, you may be able to opt back in. Please complete the 'Election to Join the Teachers' Pension Scheme' form which can be found on the Teachers' Pensions website
- Under auto enrolment legislation employer's must automatically re-enrol all employees every 3 years from their specific auto enrolment staging date. The only exception is if the re-enrolment date is within twelve months since you last opted out. In this case they can decide whether to re-enrol you or not. You may wish to ask your employer when their re-enrolment/staging date is so that you are aware if and when they will automatically re-enrol you
- If you change your job or contract, your new employer will normally put you back into pension saving straight away
- If you have another employer, then this other employer might also put you into pension saving, now or in the future. If you wish to be opted out in respect of employment with another employer a separate opt out form must be completed.
- Once you've reached your normal pension age your benefits are eligible for payment, should you opt out of the Scheme

Declaration 2
